

To Whom It May Concern:

My company Creativeseen recently had the pleasure of working with Rene Blanco and Riviera Maya Films in Cancun, Mexico for a Marc Anthony music video titled, "Cambio El Piel" (October 2013).

We have shot music videos and commercials all across the globe, from Madrid to Trinidad...from London to Buenos Aires and I can say with confidence that Riviera Maya Films is by far the most professional, efficient and accommodating production company that we have dealt with outside of the United States. They handled each of our requests with speed and ease and left nothing in our production to chance.

I would have no problem recommending Riviera Maya Films and Rene Blanco's services to any of my colleagues shooting in Mexico and please feel free to reach out for any discussion regarding my experience with their extensive production knowledge and capabilities.

Thank you and have a great shoot!
